

I am alarmed that the FCC is even considering relaxing the restrictions on a single corporate entity owning all of the media outlets in any given market. Diversity in this arena is essential to providing the public with balanced and accurate information. Relaxing these rules is an enormous disservice to the public and constitutes a potential threat to our democracy. If you have good evidence that relaxing these rules will somehow benefit the public, please make that information available to us and extend the public debate.